

Lance Guberina – September 2017

I was injured in a bicycle accident following a collision with a vehicle. After failing to reach a settlement on my own with ICBC, I began to seek out legal help. After talking to several firms by phone, it did not look promising until I got in touch with Pettit and Company. I was invited to visit their office and present to them, records from the scene of the accident. After reviewing the details, Tim assured me that I had good grounds to pursue a better settlement. He and his team crafted a well written proposal which affectively placed the totality of fault on the vehicle's driver. After further negotiations, a new settlement followed – one which was more proportional to the facts. I will certainly keep Tim and his tea in mind, should I ever require their assistance again.
